

Politicians need not apply

Hospital management is no place for political gamesmanship, consultants were repeatedly told during a forum at the Minden Community Centre last Monday.

If governance of Haliburton County's hospitals is removed from the St. Joseph's Hospital Board, it should not be turned over to municipal politicians.

This message was delivered to consultants David Coulson and Terry McBurney when they met with representatives from Minden's service clubs.

The forum, sponsored by the Rotary Club, provided an opportunity for members of the various service organizations to express their opinions about the future of the county's health care system.

The consultants have finished the first portion of their study and are now in the process of putting together options to be considered by the Haliburton County Planning and Development Committee. One possible recommendation, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, is to transfer the decision-making function for the Minden and Haliburton Hospitals from the St. Joseph's Hospital Board to a board made up of county residents. (At the moment, the county is represented by two trustees on the St. Joseph's Board.) This move would provide local control of the staffing, budgeting, maintenance and services provided through these facilities.

Although service club members, their spouses and guests appeared to favour local governance of the hospitals, they warned of potential pitfalls if this function falls into the hands of municipal or county politicians. On several occasions during the discussions, participants repeated the suggestion that health care was too important to leave to county politicians. "We must find individuals dedicated to the welfare of the county as a whole," one participant commented.

The audience seemed to approve of an idea which

'Consultant' gets Nevada licence for The Hub

Bob Clubine has finally convinced Minden Council to allow Nevada tickets to be sold at The Hub convenience store in Carnarvon.

Clubine had his licence application rejected a few months ago when he presented himself as a representative of the Kidney Foundation. He came back again last Thursday representing another charity, and this time his application was approved.

Clubine, who says he is now employed by the provincial government as a field management consultant, was asking permission to sell the popular break-open tickets to raise funds for the St. Joseph's General Hospital Foundation.

Council's rejection of Clubine's original application was based on the fact that funds were earmarked for a wide district, which included Muskoka. Council felt sales at The Hub would cut into the ticket sales by local organizations, which support local causes.

On Thursday, Clubine promised that all the money raised through the ticket sales at The Hub will go directly into an equipment fund for the Minden Hospital. He said all administrative fees for these sales will be drawn from a separate fund.

Clubine told council he wants the hospital foundation to have outlets in each of the communities it serves.

A temptingly sweet taste of opera

Canadian Opera Company performs Hansel and Gretel in third leg of Children's Concert Series at Haliburton Legion

Parents were urged to not be judgemental. Allow the children to make their own decisions about opera music. Parents did as they were asked and a large crowd turned out to last Saturday's Children's Concert Series presentation of the Canadian Opera Company's Hansel and Gretel. The beaming faces on the dozens of children at the front of the Haliburton Legion hall showed that the kids liked what they saw and heard. Brightly coloured stage props, a quick tempo and wonderful voices added new dimension to this classic fairy tale. Above: the Wicked Witch (John Kritter) was a crowd pleaser - especially when she was thrown into the oven. Right: Gretel (Donna Bennet) is frozen stiff with a spell from the witch.

Students speak out

by Jerry Grozelle

Six local youngsters will represent the Coboconk branch of the Royal Canadian Legion in the Zone F4 Public Speaking Contest at the Bobcaygeon Legion on March 7.

The Legion Branch 519 in Coboconk held its Speak-Off Tuesday, February 23 with a total of 13 orators in Junior and Intermediate classes. The speakers represented Ridgewood Public School in Coboconk and Lady McKenzie and St. John's, both of Kirkfield.

First place in the junior division went to Kara

Fogwell of Ridgewood. Amy Herd of Lady McKenzie was second and third went to Heather McCallum of Lady McKenzie.

The intermediate division saw Adrienne Chiasson of Ridgewood take top honors. Aiden O'Donoghue of Lady McKenzie placed second and third went to Adam Greer of Ridgewood.

Only one speaker was entered from St. John's Separate School.

Speakers were rated in three categories by six judges. A timer was on hand to make sure they didn't go over their allotted times.

Part one of the score sheet assessed the speaker's delivery with a maximum of five points each for appearance and gestures, 12 points for voice and 10 for manner for a

Coulson identifies hospital problem areas

by Jerry Grozelle

Officials from Coulson & Associates Health Services Consultants presented their review of the 1988 proposal for the construction of an 18-bed acute and long term care facility attached to the Haliburton Hospital.

In addition to the construction, the plan provided for some major renovations and modifications to the present structure.

The consultants identified 12 areas of concern on the main floor of the hospital and the proposed addition and 11 potential problem areas on the lower floor of the existing building and the drawings that were submitted in 1988.

Although the project was ready for the tender stage as far as the community was concerned, the Ministry of Health (which was in the midst of a review of its funding policies) deferred a decision on the project. In the meantime, the Ontario Building Code has been revised and many parts of the original drawings will no longer comply with the new code.

New guidelines state that 80 per cent of long term care accommodation should be one-bed rooms and 20 per cent should be two-bed rooms. There is no provision for wards. The 1988 blueprints called for 80 per cent two-bed rooms.

The consultants came up with an alternate plan that would allow for the necessary changes without any major structural changes to the plan, but it would mean reducing the number of beds from 18 to 15.

Other recommended changes to the tentially serious problem. An outside activity area would also be incorporated. Coulson & Associates also recommended some changes to the structural systems.

One such change would not only save money, but would allow for the purchase of materials locally. The proposed use of roof trusses, according to the consultants doctors and other health care professionals. The consultants said that their studies indicate that the lease cost of these facilities would be "significantly higher than the cost for equivalent space elsewhere in Haliburton."

They also anticipated that no capital funds for that part of the project would be available from either the Ministries of Health or Community and Social Services.

With all of the other problems associated with this project, it is the proposed operating budget that could prove to be an insurmountable obstacle.

The 1989 estimated net operating costs were $1,038,500. The operating budget updated to 1992 dollars was estimated at $1,161,500, with salaries taking the biggest bite at $988,049. Taking recent government announcements regarding funding of acute and long term care facilities in the future into account, an operating deficit of between $559,000 and $668,000 could be expected with the addition of the long term care wing to the Haliburton Hospital. No indication was given as to how that deficit might be funded.

existing plans included wheelchair accessible washrooms, relocation of the kitchen and staff dining area to the new wing, a staircase adjacent to the elevator in the event that the elevator should become inoperable and moving a few departments to different locations to form a more cohesive, accessible and cost-efficient facility.

According to the new plan, the helipad would also be moved to provide for "maximum efficiency and minimum conflict with other uses." Delivery of supplies would also be moved away from the emergency entrance, a situation which the consultants said could result in a po-

"is overly complex and expensive." Instead, they suggest that the design could be altered to incorporate the use of structural wood stud and stick trusses similar to the existing frame building.

As architect Chuck Cansfield pointed out: "This method of construction is in compliance with Code requirements, is less expensive and would allow the use of locally available construction materials."

A number of mechanical and electrical improvements were also suggested. The 1988 plans called for a shelled-in space on the lower floor of the new building which would be leased to total of 32 maximum points.

Part two of the evaluation was for material. Eight points were possible for the suitability of the material to the topic, organization, suitability and originality, for another possible 32 points.

Part three of the evaluation was for language and literary form. That segment of the judging was worth a maximum of 36 points. The sub-categories, worth nine points each, were: words, fluency, grammar and pronunciation.

When the scores were tallied, just one point separated first, second and third in the junior division.

Certificates and cash prizes were awarded to the top three speakers in each division. The Coboconk Legion Ladies' Auxiliary served refreshments.

New Haliburton day care program proposed

by Jerry Grozelle

Haliburton could have a mobile adult day care program, members of the Haliburton County Planning and Development Committee (HCPDC) heard at a meeting in Minden on February 23.

Laurie Hemming, representing a sub-committee of the HCPDC, reported on a Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton branch of the Victoria Order of Nurses draft proposal for the establishment of a mobile adult day care program in Haliburton County.

Hemming, citing the VON proposal, explained that because of the sparseness of the population within Haliburton

County a mobile adult day care program would be preferable to a stationary one so it would be accessible to a greater number of residents.

The proposal initially targets Minden, Haliburton and Wilberforce as potential sites for the mobile program. The goal of the program would be to provide social and recreational stimulation, health assessment and monitoring to cognitively impaired, physically disabled and frail elderly residents of the county. Another benefit would be to provide respite for the caregivers (usually family members) to reduce the stress of constant care. It has been proposed that the program be available two days per week each in Minden and Haliburton and one day per week in Wilberforce.

To assess the popularity of the program, each centre would operate just one day per week in the beginning. If sufficient numbers of clients opted to take part in the program it would be increased. For the first year, the program would provide placement for eight clients per unit.

After that time, an evaluation would be done to determine whether the response warranted expansion. Committee member Don Shortreed expressed the concern that the Dorset area was being left out of the plan. He indicated that the number of people who turned out for the meeting from the Dorset area demonstrated that there is enough interest in the area to warrant a closer site than Haliburton. Hemming explained that three health care workers in Dorset were interviewed and they had stated that the people of the area would be more oriented toward similar services in Huntsville. But she promised to forward those concerns to the VON office in Peterborough.

Committee member Anne Wood pointed out that there is no information on what the demand would be. "They Government funding of long term care facilities will be calculated on a seven component "levels-of-care" system.

Bob Morton, administrator of Georgian Manor and a member of the consulting team, gave his definition of the new levels-of-care funding system.

"Unfortunately, the government is using the levels-of-care system just to redistribute money across the system," he explained. "It's not based upon what is required for each one of those levels of care. It's really a levels-of-care underfunding system. We will all be equitably underfunded."

In their conclusions, Coulson and Associates officials assert optimistically that they "believe that there are significant opportunities to improve the proposed physical facilities to meet current design guidelines." They also say that alternate design considerations could reduce the capital costs. The issue of reducing the operating budget to avoid the estimated shortfall in funding will be addressed in Phase II of the study.

Mike Collins summed up the thoughts that must have been foremost in the minds of the rest of the committee members in attendance when he offered the following comment:

"By my calculations, the costs are starting to get out of range and starting to disappear into the dim mists of the future. The amount of money we actually have to spend is very limited."

Large Haliburton contingent hits roads conference

The Ontario Good Roads Association annual convention in Toronto provided an excellent opportunity for many local politicians and employees to gain an audience with provincial and federal leaders.

Haliburton and Victoria counties were very well represented at this convention, held last week at the Royal York Hotel. The delegates were able to gain new information about the day's hot issues. Disentanglement and planning reform were among the sessions in this busy three-day agenda. Provincial and federal leaders involved in the conference included Transportation Minister Gilles Pouliot, federal Finance Minister Michael Wilson and Sheila Copps, the deputy leader of the federal Liberals.

Delegates from this county arranged for a private meeting with the Minister of Transportation, where Minden Road Superintendent Clayton Cameron made a presentation on behalf of the municipality. In his report back to council last Thursday, Cameron said that is reason for "reserved optimism" that some of the municipality's requests will be met.

Haliburton County participants at the Ontario Good Roads convention included OGRA technical advisor Bill Obee, Minden councillor Gerald Rome, Roads Superintendent Clayton Cameron, councillor Jean Anthon, County Roads Chairman Lewis Stevens and County Engineer David Valentine.

ASES addition plans nearly done

by Andy Holloway

The following items were discussed at the regular Haliburton County Board of Education meeting last Tuesday night.

Adding up

Plans for the new addition at Archie Stouffer Elementary School are now 75 per cent completed, but the cost has risen by over $500,000 more than the original rough estimate.

The project, which will add two classroom wings and a double gym, is now expected to cost about $4.6 million, but this price could fluctuate depending on construction prices when tenders go out later this spring said business administrator Jim Bradley. Two surveys, one for the removal of toxic waste, the other a storm water management request by Minden township, are responsible for some of the increase.

The plan's drawings still have to be approved by the trustees and the Ministry of Education before tenders can be sought.

After the tenders are in, the ministry has to give its approval again before construction can start.

Hopefully at the next meeting trustees will get a chance to approve the plans. Bradley still hopes the project will be com-of age.

Supporting Ottawa

Three resolutions from the Ottawa Board of Education received support from trustees including a proposal that would set national and international standards for assessing a student's abilities in mathematics and science. Education director Brad Saunders said he is strongly in favour of having Haliburton students compete with students from around the world as "an initiative".

The proposal would allow schools to participate in the International Mathematics and Science Study and provide an opportunity to assess how well Canadian students fare when compared to other countries.

The Haliburton board supported Ottawa's call to have school boards' portion of taxes be paid out as they are collected by the municipality.

The City of Ottawa recently proposed to pay out collected tax money on a quarterly basis rather than a monthly basis.

Finally, trustees showed their concern for the lack of programs and services for developmentally delayed individuals over 21 years

Community usage

An Ad Hoc Committee will be formed to review the community use of schools. The committee will try to find a balance between opening up area schools for community usage and trying to keep the building, equipment and students secure.

The county's three largest schools - Haliburton Highlands, Archie Stouffer and J.D. Hodgson - are used regularly for events like public meetings and sporting groups. However, concerns for the safety of students has arisen the last few times anyone has approached the board with a proposal to use the schools.

Current policy allows groups to use school buildings until 8 p.m. free of charge when custodial staff leave. After 8 p.m. a rental fee kicks in.

The committee will consist of two trustees from each of the management, education and human resources committees.

Budget meeting

The next school board budget meeting is March 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the board room.

Adult day care program considered by committee can identify that there are X number of people in Haliburton county who could use the service but not that X number will go," she said.

A figure of $14 per day to be paid by the clients was suggested. One question that was raised concerned the client's ability to pay a $14 per day user fee, considering the fact that the average annual income in Haliburton County is less than $20,000, the unemployment situation is bleak and there would be additional cost to transport clients to and from the program sites.

Although a user fee has been proposed, the additional costs, which are to be shared by the VON and the Long Term Care Division Area Office, have not yet been determined.

"What's the cost of the program?" Jim Wrigley, a representative from the Ministry of Health, asked.

"I don't see how we can make a decision until we know what it's going to cost."

Mike Collins wondered whether the money might be better spent on expanding present facilities. He wasn't sure that adding another program is the solution.

"I think there will be a problem selling the program," Collins said. "People aren't going to want to put their loved ones in with a bunch of strangers."

Collins added that the provincial government is cutting back on its funding of services and therefore "money is going to get shorter".

The question of supportive housing, which is administered by the Ministry of Housing, was also raised. Some of the committee members are disappointed that the ministry is not taking any initiative in supporting this type of program.

"Here's a ministry that's away out there ploughing their own furrow," said Doug Campbell. "We have to bring them in line with the rest."

Bob Beeney added: "Without supportive housing, there is a valuable link missing."

Hemming said after her presentation that one objective is "to see these people in their homes with their families... without burning the families out".

"I think there will be a problem selling the program. People aren't going to want to put their loved ones in with a bunch of strangers"

--Mike Collins

She added that most of the people who would use the service have worked all their lives and they are used to getting up in the morning and having something to do. She said that the service would give those people the opportunity to "go out and have an active, fulfilling day and be tired at the end of the day from doing something as opposed to being tired at the end of the day from not doing something."

The VON has successfully operated adult day care programs in Peterborough County since 1984 and in Victoria County since 1989. In preparing their proposal, VON officials did extensive research, which included questionnaires to physicians, a focus group with local service providers, community meetings as well as telephone conversations and meetings with several key stakeholders.

The conclusion was that an adult day care program in Haliburton County "is seriously needed." The HCPDC subcommittee will finalize its draft report on the VON proposal on March 10.

Health consultants hear from Minden service club members would give the control of the two hospitals to a local board, and felt it could be extended to include co-ordination of social services and possibly Hyland Crest as well.

On a more local focus, those in attendance also expressed a concern for the future of the services provided by the Minden Hospital. Several offered first-hand experiences in which they felt the intervention provided at the Minden Hospital was crucial and life-saving. One speaker pointed to the growing number of seniors in the area as an important reason for maintaining the hospital, while another said the service was vital to families with young children. It was pointed out that the area attracts a large summer population which relies on the emergency services provided at the hospital. It was also noted that a well-organized health system would be helpful in attracting new investment to the county.

Other suggestion included bring visiting specialists to the community, expanding the role of the Minden Hospital to provide facilities for minor operations (carried out by a visiting surgeon) and birthing. The need for increased services to assist seniors to remain out of institutions as long as possible was also suggested.

McBurney and Coulson are leading a team of five consultants in an investigation of the future of health care, social services and housing in the Highlands. They have been commissioned by the Haliburton County Planning and Development Committee to prepare options for the future of the county's two acute care hospitals, the status of the county-owned home for the aged, Hyland Crest, and how the 30 long-term beds approved for Haliburton County could be integrated into the plan. The final report will be issued later this month.

PM made many contributions

After almost nine years as Canada's top political leader, Brian Mulroney made his greatest contribution to the nation's people last week by announcing his resignation.

The Prime Minister has made other noteworthy contributions in his time at the top. He has contributed to the longevity of the recession with his industry-crushing free trade deal. He has eased labour unrest from coast to coast by reducing the labour force to a fraction of its former size. He has helped Canadians better understand conflict of interest by filling cabinet ranks with the likes of Sinc Stevens, Michel Cote, Bob Coates, John Crosbie, John Fraser and Marcel Masse. He contributed to our sense of brotherly love by rewarding flocks of his Tory brothers with patronage appointments. He has earned the appreciation of all U.S. citizens for giving free rein to invade our markets and take our industries and natural resources.

Yes, there have been many achievements during the Mulroney years, but none has sparked the sense of euphoria that came with last week's announcement. The feeling is electric. The air is supercharged with optimism. It's the all-Canadian version of the Wizard of Oz -- "Ding, Dong the witch is dead. The wicked witch is dead..."

No Canadian leader has earned such thunderous approval for any single decision as Prime Minister won with last week's announcement. The Mulroney retirement will surely be logged as a milestone in this nation's history. It's a remarkable way to conclude a career filled with achievements.

However, we must give credit where credit is due. Mulroney could never have done all of this on his own. He had plenty of help from people like Kim Campbell, Michael Wilson and Perrin Beatty, to name a few. We must make a point of remembering their assistance when the federal election rolls around this fall.

County should get out of health care business now says reader

Editor:

I am writing concerning the health care issue in Minden. About three years ago I wrote a letter in this paper saying that I felt Minden Hospital would be closed and added on to Hyland Crest as an emergency out-post only. After all these committee meetings and studies and thousands of taxpayer's dollars, it now looks like it is going to happen whether we want it to or not.

I have some questions:

1. Do the taxpayers of Haliburton County own Hyland Crest?
2. Is it paid for?
3. What is the difference between Hyland Crest in Minden and Extendicare in Haliburton?

4. Why are the taxpayers of Haliburton County paying 20 per cent of the operating costs of Hyland Crest when Extendicare is privately owned and operating at a profit?

Now, if the hospital was closed and added on to Hyland Crest, you would need three walls. So if the Minden Hospital is in such bad shape all we need is one more wall than what would be required, if added on to Hyland Crest. I don't think this government has any intention of keeping the Minden Hospital as we now know it. More than likely it will be moved to Hyland Crest within the existing building. A small emergency hospital or clinic and 15 acute care beds leaving Hyland Crest as a hospital with acute care and senior's home within existing walls.

If this were to happen how do you handle employees from the hospital on one union contract coming to Hyland Crest with their union on another contract. Hyland Crest has been a political hot bed and would only be worse with the hospital there.

Also, would taxpayers then have to fund the hospital and Hyland Crest at 20 per cent (something to think about).

Maybe it is time for Haliburton County to get out of the health care business and sell or trade Hyland Crest to the government and take that money and build a new county build-

Another success story for Minden Hospital

Editor:

On February 18, 1993 my 11-year-old daughter Natasha was experiencing shortness of breath and chest pain (Natasha previously had heart surgery in 1985). I immediately took her to Minden Hospital. When I informed the nurse at the desk of our problem Natasha immediately had three nurses looking after her and approximately three minutes later Dr. Chayer was also there. Oxygen was given, some tests were done and Dr. Chayer admitted he did not deal with Natasha's kind of problem every day and would like to get advice from the Hospital For Sick Children (and did so).

In the midst of looking after Natasha and her upset Mom this hospital staff was also preparing for an emergency patient coming by way of an ambulance.

I can't believe there are actually some people that want our hospital closed (maybe we should have some 'heads checked').

My hat's off to you, Minden Hospital, for another job well done!!

Thank you.

Time for new building

The government is talking about reforming the welfare system and tying it in with job retraining. What better time to have the government fund a new county building, in exchange for Hyland Crest.

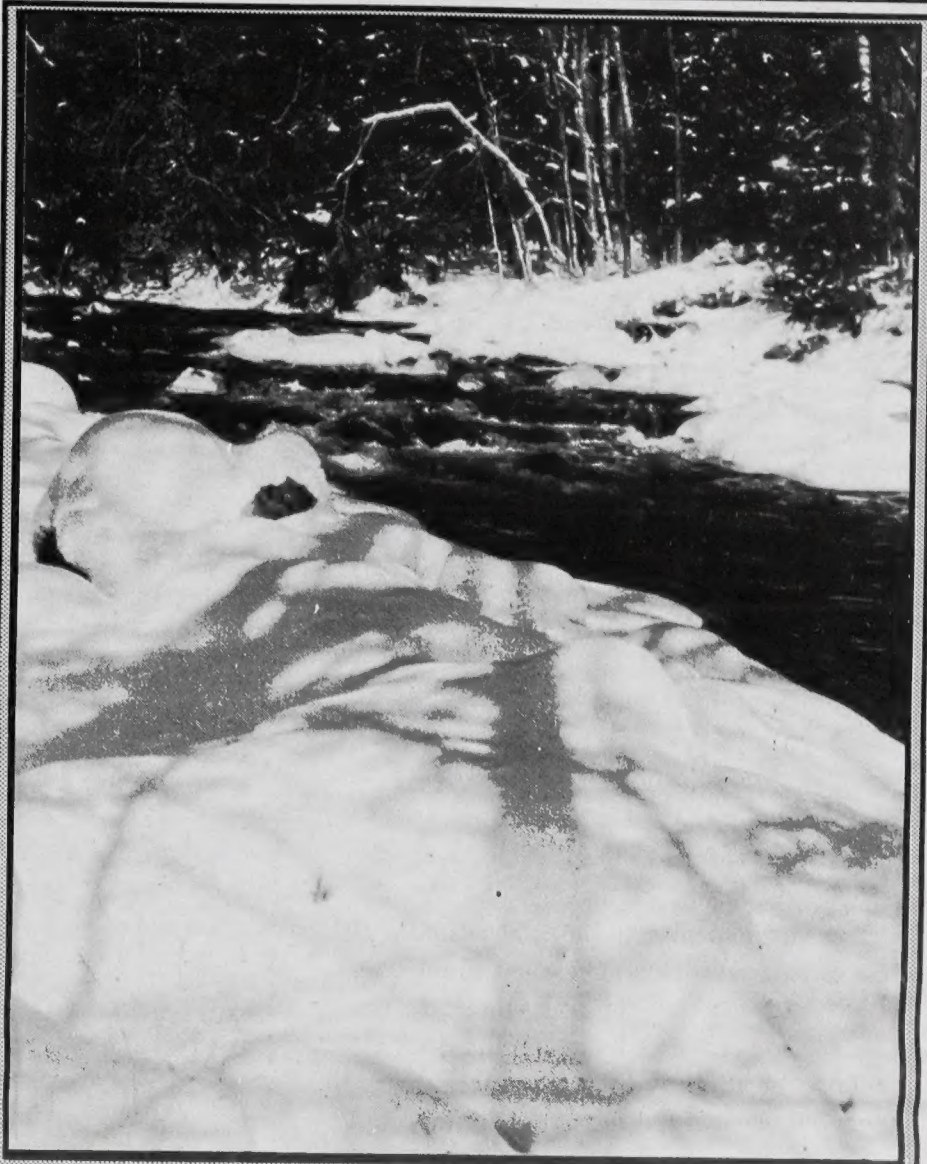

This could be a unique project. No outside contractors would be used, all work and materials would come from within Haliburton County taking people off welfare and UIC and retraining them to do this building. The service clubs and retired people with the necessary expertise to oversee this are likely within this county. Then take the old county building and lease it to the Ministry of Community and Social Services and they could house everything there.

I know everyone won't agree, but we could get people to work and get rid of a 20 per cent cost that just keeps going up.

Leave Minden Hospital where it is now, but replace the outside asbestos shingles with vertical steel siding and it would look 100 per cent better.

Dumb crooks keeping the dogs at bay

The worse the society, the more law there will be. In Hell, there will be nothing but law and due process will be meticulously observed.

Grant Gilmore.

The law is an ass, an idiot.

Charles Dickens.

You have to wonder about our legal system sometimes. Such as when it pops a repeat sexual psychopath and convicted child molester like Joseph Fredericks back on the street, just in time for him to abduct, rape, torture and strangle a 12-year-old boy.

Such as when it wastes several days of court time and who knows how many thousands of dollars examining a beer spitting spat between an oafish 19-year-old hockey player and a bar waitress.

Not that Canadian courts of law have a corner on jurisprudence jerkishness. Just cast your eyes on courtrooms south of the border, where an arch thief like Michael Milken can bilk the American people of billions of dollars by peddling junk bond. He gets 10 years, but escapes with a 22-month sentence and a few hundred hours of "community work".

The American legal system put televangelical fraud Jim Bakker away for 45 years four years ago. Last month, Bakker's lawyers said that he might be eligible for parole next year!

Black 'n White

by Arthur Black

Go figure.

And while you're at it, go figure the treatment Terry Anderson's getting from the U.S. legal system. You remember Terry Anderson — the sad-eyed, bearded pawn in the Middle East war, captured by Hezbollah fanatics, beaten, chained to radiators, threatened, held hostage for longer than Mike Milken and Jim Bakker put together?

Well Anderson's free now, trying to put his life back together. He intends to write a book about his experience as a hostage, so he wrote to the U.S. government for background information on the thugs who'd held him captive.

No dice.

So far, Anderson's request has been turned down by eight different U.S. federal agencies — on the recommendation of their legal advisors.

Why can't Terry Anderson get access to information on the criminals who so grossly and publicly violated his civil rights for so long? Well, according to the U.S. Department of Justice, that would be violating the privacy rights of the terrorists.

Not that the Justice Department slams the door entirely. Anderson's been informed that they'll gladly provide the information he seeks.

Just as soon as he supplies notarized personal privacy waivers signed by each of the terrorists who held him prisoner, including their full names and present addresses.

Said Anderson, "I just find it kind of strange that the U.S. Department of Justice wants to protect the privacy of members of the Hezbollah."

On the other side of the ledger, there is the story of Dejon Dickson, an auto thief in Palm Springs, California. Dickson was out looking for work (i.e. parked cars with a key in the ignition) when police officer Greg Jackson cruised by. Jackson saw Dickson, Dickson saw Jackson. Dickson took off through a park on foot.

Small problem: Dejon Dickson was young, lean and fast. Officer Jackson? Well, after 16 years of squad cars and donuts he was...less lean and fast. He knew he'd never catch the fleet-footed Dickson by running after him.

So he thought fast instead. Officer Jackson reached for the patrol car speaker, flipped it on and boomed "STOP — OR I'LL SEND THE DOG!"

And after a tasteful pause, Officer Jackson added in his best basso-profundo: "WOOF! WOOF! WOOF!"

Dejon Dickson skidded to a stop with his hands in the air.

Ah, me. It's a good job they're still making dumb crooks. It helps to make up for all the smart ones who are laughing all the way to the Half Way House.

Comments trivialize victims

Editor:

In response to your recent editorial and edited press release regarding International Women's Day I would like to clarify several issues.

First, the YWCA Women's Safety Network does not organize this event. It is organized by a number of women in Haliburton County who come from all backgrounds, age groups and ideologies. Individual Women's Safety Network staff members may help in the organization and may participate in the event, but unfortunately we can not claim responsibility for its success.

Second, I was surprised and dismayed to read that you made such a strong connection between this celebration as a women's only event and women's fear of men. There is no connection at all. Your comments not only undermine this event, but trivialize the real fear experienced by many women who have been victimized by violence. To generalize this fear is an insult to the women survivors.

Third, I'd like to clarify for the readers that two members of the organizing committee contacted you prior to your editorial to offer several solutions to your stated problem of not having a female reporter on staff, you declined our assistance. Perhaps you need to first develop a track record for attending the events which you have been invited to ie. December 6 vigil and have not responded. I leave your readers to conclude why you attacked the Women's Safety Network and me personally in such a mean spirited way.

Annegreth Gerrard

Editor's Note: the press release regarding this event came from the office of the YWCA Women's Safety Network. The covering letter was printed on their letterhead. Therefore, we made the assumption that the Women's Safety Network was the organizer of this event.

Discrimination offensive against any group or sex

I guess I just don't understand.

From my standpoint, the "women only" rule applied by the organizers of the local International Women's Day celebration is a clear-cut case of sexual discrimination. They want news coverage, but they won't accept my presence in the room during the event. They are preventing me from doing my job because I am not a woman.

I'm sorry, but I find this offensive. It's true that — if I wanted to — I could arrange for alternative means of covering this event. However, losing out on the coverage is not the issue here. It's the larger principle of sexual discrimination that really makes me angry. If it's not okay to ban female reporters from the locker rooms, it's not okay to ban male reporters from women's gatherings.

My temperament progressed from anger to outright rage when I received this week's letter from John Ellis. In it,

Re: International Women's Day - Annegreth Gerrard

Perhaps it is time for men in all communities to realize that feminists of our day and age have whined so much that men have no rights left.

Imagine the scenario - International "Men's" Day and feminist can not attend! The streets would be full of picketers, papers full of angry comments. They'd never let the organizer of that function live in peace.

All too often, all I experience is most of these women (yes, you, Annegreth) "taking" on behalf of their cause, but not giving.

The WSN accepts donations of time, services and money from concerned males, but when it's time to get down to the real nitty gritty you just don't practice what you preach.

I also had the opportunity to entertain at a benefit on behalf of the WSN where the headlining act was 'male'.

If I were you men, I'd start digging your foxholes now. If this gathering is so secretive that 'The Times' male reporters can not attend, maybe they're planning an all-out male-female war.

Well, Annegreth it's too bad that while you're walking down Main Street with a lit candle in your hand, the majority of us (I hope) will be living and working together on these issues - woman and man.

Maybe next year you can hire an all-female circus-poodle act for the WSN benefit. I know I'll be elsewhere.

I certainly wouldn't take it personally if all "males" withdrew their concern and available help for this cause.

Perhaps it's time for the party responsible to take a good look at "her" attitude".

P.S. Isn't there a law against this?

Sensitivity not shown

Editor:

I have just read and re-read your two editorials on pages eight and 20 of the February 22 'Times'. It seems to me, a male reader, you, as a newspaper and an editor, are being very insensitive as well as being sexist. You are spot-on correct when you say "Sexism is alive and well in Haliburton County" and not too successfully hiding out in the 'Times, Minden' editorial typewriter!

In case you hadn't noticed there are many talented women working in your own newspaper office (I count at least four on your editorial page masthead). Perhaps you could con one of them into attending the meeting of the Women's Safety Network. Ergo, first-hand reportage for the Minden Times.

Or better still, you could hire a full-time woman reporter. There seems to be enough room on that page eight masthead right below 'Advertising Sales'.

And stop being so insensitive.

John Ellis

Women only concept blown up too much

Editor:

It is unfortunate that you chose to focus on one minor aspect of the International Women's Day event, that it is a women-only event and to blow it up into a fear-filled, divisive issue. The concept of men and women being enemies is yours; it was not in any way suggested by information from our organizers. You have set up a straw monster only to feel threatened by it. Whatever your reasons may be for looking for fear and enmity where none exists, I think it is important to work towards understanding rather than to set up conflicts.

The organizers of the International Women's Day event represent a diversity of viewpoints in our community and make no claim to represent all women. We are perhaps fortunate to be acquainted with confident men who are not threatened by our choosing at times to gather without them. In my experience there is a different dynamic in groups of women only than in groups of men and women, and I find that both are enriching for me. In past years, many others have agreed and have enjoyed our celebrations together.

For your information, as I mentioned in our prior conversation, the Times is welcome to attend; it is only male reporters that are asked not to attend. You mention that your only full-time reporters are male; perhaps you have a part-time reporter or columnist or feature writer who is a woman. Or perhaps we could provide you with a report - or perhaps you could stop waiting for women to solve your problems and come up with a creative solution yourself.

There are two other major events during the year which do involve the participation of men: the Take Back the Night rally and march in September, and the December Montreal Massacre Memorial.

For the evening on March 8, women have chosen to celebrate their strengths and face their challenges in the company of other women.

Caroline Bishop
Haliburton

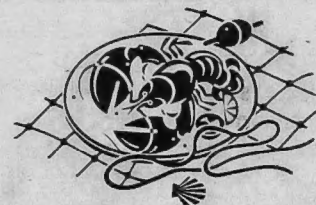

Editor's Note: Men were welcome to attend last year's The Take Back the Night rally, but not to participate in the march. In previous years, however, men were excluded from both segments of this event.

he accuses me of being sexist.

Give your head a shake, man. In one breath you accuse me of being sexist, and in another you suggest I could "con" the women in this office into doing my job for me.

Heck, maybe you're right. After all, they're just women, right? They're not smart enough to see through the sweet talk, right? Throw in some flowers and candy for good measure and they won't catch on, right?

I don't think so. The women here aren't quite that gullible. Besides, they have their own reasons to be ticked off about the women-only rule.

Haliburton Highlands skiers snowed under

Area high school fails to earn any medals at Nordic ski championship

by Oliver Greer

Competition at the OFSAA Nordic Ski Championships held at Glebe park in Haliburton last Monday and Tuesday was fierce and combined with the weather conditions and some exceptionally bad luck kept Haliburton racers out of the medals.

Because of the recent snowfalls there was more snow on the trails and it was softer than the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School squad were used to which made their times a bit slower said coach Bruce Griffith. This, however, was a minor factor and most of the blame for the Redmen skiers' lack of success must fall on the tough competition from all over Ontario.

Highly regarded skier Ryan Cummings probably would have finished high in the rankings in the junior boys event, but due to a scheduling mix-up he missed his starting time by two minutes. The two minutes then became part of his time and effectively knocked him out of contention for the medals.

Altogether there were 640 skiers competing in the event from 112 Ontario schools, including members of the Canadian National Junior Team.

The winner in the senior boys event was Eric Allen from Earl of March Secondary School with a time of 29:06 minutes.

The junior boys event was dominated by Eric Potter from Chippewa Secondary School who, with a time of 15:11, defeated his closest competition by over a minute (the reason for the large discrepancy between the senior and junior boys' times was due to the fact the senior boys must complete the course twice).

In female competition the senior event was taken by Erin Despard from Orangeville Secondary School 'A' with a time of 17:10 and the winner in the junior girls event was Becky Laakso from Chelmsford Secondary School who finished with a time of 17:19.

The event seemed to provide an economic boost for the area with many businesses reporting an increase in sales and several area lodges were filled with the skiers and their coaches.

Looking back over the year's Nordic ski season coach Griffith says there were several high points.

One such point was the junior boys winning Central Ontario Finals (COSAA) and Ryan Cummings' first place over-all finish in the event.

Another was Amanda Woods fifth place finish at COSAA to become the first female competitor from Haliburton to qualify for the provincial high school championship.

A major highlight for Griffith was the actual hosting of the OFSAA finals, which was the largest high school Nordic race event in North America. Many comments were received on how challenging the course was and how well it was maintained.

Much of the credit for the success of the event, says Griffith must be given to the many volunteers who helped out.

Looking to next year, Griffith says it will be a time for rebuilding. Cummings will be in Finland for the year on an exchange program and another highly competitive skier for Haliburton, Simon Reid, may not be attending classes in Haliburton either.

Griffith says Corey Burke, who competed as a midget and came second in Kawartha competition and qualified for OFSAA, looks to

Senior curlers finish up second in bonspiel

by Aileen Blears

Has any old fellow got mixed with the boys?

If there has, take him out, without a noise.

*We're twenty! We're twenty!
Who says we are more*

— Oliver Wendell Holmes

There was not one 'old fellow' mixed up with the 'boys' last week as the Minden Senior Curling Club hosted the Annual Valu-Mart Bonspiel.

Teams from Orillia, Haliburton, Bobcaygeon, Woodville, Oshawa, Fenelon Falls, Peterborough and Port Hope's Dalewood Club began arriving before 8 a.m. to warm up with coffee, muffins and sweet rolls. The ladies in the kitchen were hard-pressed to keep the coffee brewed and the cream jugs filled (one of which really did hold cream).

After a morning of hard-fought, but friendly games, lunch was very welcome and was, as usual 'good to the last bite.' Teen-age appetites soon decimated the hearty fare before the curlers took to the ice for another eight ends of play.

The Peterborough rink won the day and the Valu-Mart Trophy, but only after a tie-breaking roll-off with the Minden team. Peterborough was skipped by P. Smith who was backed up by S. Dewolfe, L. Collins and B. Duncan.

Second in the 2nd Draw after the roll-off was Minden's Bill Milford, Ross Davies, Dave McAdam and Russ Fair.

The first draw was won by the Port

Hope (Dalewood) rink with Ted Westlake calling the shots for his team of Art Hawtin, Raymond Inch and Cliff Donahue. Second in the first draw was the Bobcaygeon rink which was skipped by Ken Cameron.

Trays of magnificent-looking steaks were presented by Valu-Mart manager Tom Land and were accepted, with thanks, by the winning teams.

Organizer Bill Milford is to be congratulated on his fine handling of this very big and important 'spiel. He was ably assisted by Frank Codlin. Thanks to Valu-Mart for their willing and active participation.

Novice B Monarchs grab playoff tie with Kings

The Ontario Hydro Minden Monarchs Novice Bs started their playoff series in impressive style against the Cannington Kings with a 4-4 tie last Tuesday.

The Monarchs are in a home and home round-robin series with Cannington, Bobcaygeon, Woodville and Haliburton. Earlier the Monarchs had been beaten by the Kings 4-0 so they now have one point in the series.

Goalie Phillip Neville and his team mates put on a fine show in their 4-4 tie with the Kings. The play was fast-paced with end-to-end rushes and both goalies were hot making several great saves each. Both the Monarchs' defence and forwards put in a superb effort.

After skating from their own blueline Colin Vaters whacked home a pass from Jason Horsley to give the Monarchs a 1-0 lead in the first period. The Kings evened it up on a power-play with just 42 seconds left in the period.

With three minutes gone in the second period, Horsley broke in alone and scored an unassisted marker to give the Monarchs another lead. Again the Kings bounced back, scoring another power-play goal with three minutes left in the second. Vaters and Horsley teamed up again less than two minutes later to give the Monarchs their third lead.

In the first half of the third period the Kings scored two straight goals to take their first lead of the game. However, the Monarchs kept pushing and Nicholas Mitchell tied it up at four. Horsley and Vaters assisted on the goal.

The Monarchs are at home twice in the next two weeks: March 2 against Bobcaygeon @ 6 p.m. and March 13 against Woodville @ 11 a.m.

Novice B ticket draw winners: First prize of a sweatshirt went to Minden's Janet Horsley, second prize of an animated doll went to Mike Hutchinson of Bobcaygeon and the third prize of a coffee percolator went to Brenda Gillet of Norland.

Hartwick and Stamp rise to the top with wins

Regular season winners KDD bounced back from a tough loss last week to even up their playoff record with a 4-3 squeaker over two time losers Westside last Monday.

After losing last week to Home Hardware KDD had to rally in the second period against Westside to avoid being upset again. Carey Gilligan and Ivan Ingram scored second period markers against goalie Brett Foster, again subbing in for Ron Telford, to give KDD the win after a 2-2 first period. Gilligan added an assist on KDD's second goal and was the only player to score two points as his team received points from six different players.

For Westside it was another disappointing week. After being bombed by The Times Westside had battled a tough KDD team to a draw in the first period. Steve Crowe and Craig Crowe scored in the first frame for Westside while Jeff Stamp and Jim Crawford replied for KDD. Craig Crowe added an assist on the lone Westside tally to beat Kevin Smith in the second period, that scored by Doug Schell.

The loss puts Westside alone in the basement with two playoff losses. They have now lost eight of nine games including six of their last seven regular season games.

KDD now moves into a three-way tie for third place, along with The Times and Home Hardware.

The Times had a chance to claim first place for themselves, but were edged 4-3 by upstart Sid Stamp who are suddenly on a roll having lost just one of their past six games.

Unbeaten Sid Stamp, who last week tied Hartwick, now share the playoff lead with Hartwick who also won their second game.

Brent Flood and Scott Hamilton each scored two goals, all in the second period, to rally the Stampers over The Times. Hamilton also added an assist to put him at the top of the playoff scoring pile.

The Times had taken a 2-0 first period lead on the strength of goals from Dennis McKee and Dave McKay. However, they were unable to keep their advantage as Sid Stamp came roaring back in the second period. The Times lone goal in the final frame was scored by Eldon Bull with an assist from Scott Gartshore, his second of the game.

In the night's final tilt, Hartwick pounded Home Hardware 5-1 in a battle of the "H" teams.

Last week, Home Hardware knocked off KDD, but could not muster up the effort to get its second upset in a row. Hartwick grabbed a share of first place and is unbeaten in two games.

Dave Pettes scored two second period goals and Sean Allore scored the winner in the first period to lead Hartwick. Hartwick took a 2-1 lead into the second period with Ben Manuge and Allore scoring while only Jeff Howe put one home for Home Hardware. Manuge also added an assist and he and Pettes are in a three-way tie for first in the scoring race.

Gary Harrison added a goal and an assist for Hartwick and Andy Campbell helped out with two assists.

There are three weeks left in the round robin opening playoff series. Only the top two teams make the grade so if Westside loses tonight (Monday) they are effectively eliminated.

Downhill cross-country

Two high school cross-country skiers race for the finish line last Tuesday in one of the boys Nordic ski final's competitions. The event took place at Haliburton's Glebe Park, but home advantage did not help Haliburton Highlands students to earn any medals during the two-day event.

Snowmobile thefts continue to occur across county

Stolen Snowmobiles

Snowmobiles continue to be stolen across Haliburton County. The following have been stolen since February 13:

Haliburton Forest and Wildlife - 1992 Polaris Indy, Ont. lic. 708601

Gull Lake - 1991 Ski Doo Mach 1, Ont. lic. 678905

Dorset - 1990 Ski Doo Mach 1, Ont. lic. 644482

Gull River Lumber break-in

An overnight break-in February 20-21 at Gull River Lumber has resulted in extensive damage to the show room and the loss of over $3500 worth of power tools. A pick-up truck stolen from the Village of Minden during the same time period was believed used in this crime, as it was discovered on a snowmobile trail off Scotch Line Road W. The maroon and black GMC pick-up had some of the stolen tools in the back when it was found. Police are continuing their investigation.

Forgery

Sally Chapman, 28, of Snowdon Twp has been charged with forgery, and Danny Whitlock, 32, and

Police briefs

Darryl Whitlock, 29, of Toronto have been charged with uttering forged documents after police investigated an incident on February 20. The incident involved the sale and transfer of ownership of a motor vehicle. All three are scheduled to appear in Provincial Court, Minden on March 17.

Thief caught

A man has been apprehended in connection with a last week's break-in at Haliburton Lumber. Early last Wednesday morning a person(s) entered the lumber store and stole a number of saws and tools worth an unknown sum.

Csaba Kovacs, 22, of no fixed address has been charged with break and entering and theft and will appear in court today (Monday) for a bail hearing.

The investigation continues.

Still searching

Police are still seeking the thieves who broke into a West Guilford residence last November 30 between 7:30 and 11 a.m. through an unlocked door. Stolen during the break-in was a quantity of jewellery including a set of diamond rings, Seiko men's watch, $540 in rolled quarters, Sears VCR, Sony F40 camcorder, Tandy 100EX computer and a Pulsar 13" black and white television. Total value of the stolen items is in excess of $10,000. Anyone with any information about this crime is asked to call Minden OPP or Crimestoppers (1-800-563-8477)

Policy is wrong

Up until an hour ago I was fuming about this whole ordeal. I was all set to sit down and spill venom all over this page, when I was confronted by someone who made me realize that I just don't understand the feelings of those who want to keep me from this event.

She calmly attempted to help me understand the other side of this issue. It didn't work. She couldn't change my mind. However, I have enough respect for her opinion to accept the possibility that I might be wrong about this.

So, what it all boils down to is this: I don't understand — I can't understand — the need for this policy.

I think it's wrong, but it's not doing me any great harm, so I'll just leave it at that.

Community shows concern for children's future

Art reflects inner feelings

Sandra Morrisette of Owen Sound displayed some powerful and thought-provoking paintings at last Wednesday's Children and Violence meeting in Minden. The bold style of these works expressed disturbing honesty about an ugly subject: abuse. Although her art depicts the pain of her past, Morrisette insists she is much more than a survivor. She wants to be known as a friend, a mother and a counsellor. She feels all her work will be worthwhile if even one person is moved to take action against family violence.

Attendance of more than 100 people at last Wednesday's Children and Violence meeting demonstrates the strong community concern about this problem.

The evening began with an introduction by Marg Dempsey, president of the Federation of Women Teachers of Ontario. She brought the hope of many that this province-wide series of meetings will help build coalitions to ensure a safer future for children and adolescents. She encouraged the participants to not be overwhelmed by this huge social problem. It's a problem that will be solved through many small achievements. "Every step counts," she said. Individual efforts can make a difference.

The keynote speaker, Susan McCrae Vander Voet, relayed some disturbing facts about abuse in society. Statistics show an alarming increase in the cases of women being killed by their partners.

McCrae Vander Voet's message included the hope that all men will become more involved in breaking the cycle of violence by taking action. Men can play a part through participation in events such as this and by applying pressure on those men who are violent towards women and children.

Participants were then allowed to attend a variety of small group workshops. Workshop leaders included people from local support services such as Kinark, Fourcast, the Women's Safety Network and the OPP.

Donna Sutherland and Caroline Bishop of Kinark presented a workshop entitled "Everyone Wins: Creative Use of Conflict." Parents and teachers at this session shared some excellent ideas for conflict resolution between children. An amusing, but realistic, role play of an argument over a sweater sparked discussion about the best solution to such a conflict. The focus was on allowing each child to become involved in the outcome.

Teenagers and adults openly discussed their views on dating and safety at the "Defensive Dating" workshop. This session was led by Jude King of the Women's Safety Network, teacher Lisa Kowalchuck and OPP officer Mike Maybee. Myths about rape and family violence were dispelled. Practical ideas for ensuring safety, such as forming networks of friends to keep track of each other, were discussed.

One suggestion was to meet a first date in a public place. Unfortunately, as the teens in this group noted, this is not always possible in rural areas. Opportunities for people under 19 years to find a public meeting place are very limited on most evenings.

Participants left this workshop with some practical ideas and a positive and more informed view of dating.

A display of survivors' art was open throughout the evening. The drawings and paintings were done by two artists who use these media to explore and release their feelings about the abuse they experienced.

Sandra Morrisette of Owen Sound displayed some powerful and thought-provoking paintings. Most were quite large and were done in a bold style. As viewers took in the images, they seemed moved by the honesty of these sometimes disturbing portrayals.

Although her art depicts the pain of her past, Morrisette insists she is much more than a survivor. "I have survived ritual abuse and incest," she said. However, she wants to be known as a friend, a mother and a counsellor.

Morrisette's attitude toward ending abuse is in keeping with the remarks made by the federation president. She feels that all her work will be worthwhile if even one person is moved to take action against family violence.

The meeting ended on an upbeat note as participants were treated to a number of songs from local teacher Tose Reid. She played guitar and sang three songs for the crowd, each with a message to take home and think about.

As an extension of this meeting, participants were encouraged to fill out a brief questionnaire. The information from these forms will assist the organizers in their efforts to develop an action plan for future activities.

Wednesday's session was the first of two initial meetings for this county. The second, scheduled for March 9 in Haliburton, will feature some of the same sessions and present a few new ones.

Gartshores liven up senior crowd with song

Here it is, another weekend that has been livened up by Scott Gartshore and his son Gavin playing guitars and Scott singing for us. Each group who comes to entertain us plays and sings, but all of them are different which makes a change for us.

Sunday Valentine's Day our tables were beautiful with red place mats and serviettes, flowers and balloons for a centerpiece and, by the kindness of the Minden Lioness Club, at each place was a jar of candies and a valentine. Thank you to the Lioness Club and the dietary staff for their beautiful lunch.

At one o'clock Anita Smith came to read till we got tired. This is greatly appreciated. In the evening, Rev. John Burgess held the Sunday evening chapel service. Lorna Rowland played the organ. Guests that evening were Lorna's son Jay, June Mason and her husband. Many thanks to each of you.

February 15 began with the swingers, toe tappers, fitness classes with crafts in the afternoon. Pat Bradburn and Fern Donnelly came in the evening to show movies. "Orville" and "Wilbur the Air Devils"

Senior League

by Winnifred Bamum

(Wright Brothers).

Tuesday morning the chapel service was held by Donna Quance interim minister at Minden United Church and this was a communion service. Donna had a luncheon for the United Church members who attend chapel service in the auditorium with a social time after. Those who attended were quite thrilled and she surely is an example to follow. Our heartfelt thanks Donna.

In the evening Corrine Arsenault came and organized two tables of euchre for which we thank her greatly.

Congratulations to Eileen O'Brien who had a birthday February 17.

Wednesday afternoon Doris conducted a question period called "Twenty Questions". It's surprising how one thing you remember leads to another and how much we do remember.

Pastor Murray and his followers came in the evening for service in the Trillium Lounge. The residents truly enjoyed the service and thank them sincerely.

Thursday morning the Gelert ladies brought their dogs to visit the residents/ Rhonda Francis had a new breed of dog with her. Thank you very much Rhonda and Joan.

The afternoon was tea party time provided by the Ingoldsby United Church ladies, Lorna Hicks, Lola Hicks, Reta Crofts and Isabelle Saunders. We enjoyed a lovely tea and thank the ladies sincerely.

As usual, Friday was Happy Hour. Those who attended included Bill Payne, Al Blanchard, George Hunt, Neil Howe and Frank Faulkner. Needless to say we had some lively music with Doris Robertson playing the piano and Linda taking care of the residents' needs. Ellen and Don Holden were kept busy looking after the residents and guests. We truly thank everyone.

We sincerely welcome Alice Todd home after her stay in the hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Glad to see Lillian Davidson getting around with the aid of a walker after breaking her hip.

Welcome to Hyland Crest Irene Duncan, Edith Brittain and Peggy Stephenson. We hope you will be happy here.

May Horsley is at present in the hospital. By reports we have heard, she has been helped and is progressing favourably.

Snowmobiles must be licensed

Is your snowmobile properly licensed?

Many snowmobiles have the six digit license number air brushed or painted on. Although this looks very nice it is not legal. Since September, 1983, the province of Ontario has issued decals with the six digit numbers affixed. This is the only approved license for snowmobiles registered after 1983, and can be compared to the metal license plates that are issued to cars and trucks. The blue validation tag must be affixed to the upper right corner of the snowmobile license decal.

Recent investigations by police involving complaints against snowmobile operators have revealed that victims are unable to read the license numbers of the offending machines because the numbers blend in to the paint scheme. In an effort to resolve this problem police are taking a more stringent line in the enforcement of section 22 of Regulation 669 of the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act. Failure to comply with this section may result in a fine of $90.

For more information on this or any other questions you may have in relation to the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act, contact your local Ontario Provincial Police.

YOUR SNOWMOBILE DESERVES THE BEST!!

You've invested a lot in your snowmobile. It deserves the careful treatment we offer at KUSHOG LAKE MARINE. Look at the services provided when you store your valuable machine with us. We will:

- Check all fluid levels
- Change chain case oil
- Drain carburetor
- Remove and maintain battery on electric start models
- Completely clean, including engine compartment, with high pressure washer
- Fog the engine with high quality storage oil
- Add fuel stabilizer to fuel tank
- Complete lubrication service, including clutches and steering

AND FINALLY - your sled will be sealed in our shrink-wrap system to keep it clean and free of birds and animals "nesting". Then your snowmobile is carefully tucked away until next fall in the upper level of our best boat storage sheds - out of harms way.

IN THE FALL

prior to delivery, we will check your sled from tailight to ski tips, make any necessary adjustments and pre-start your snowmobile to ensure it is ready to go when you pick it up next season.

Fishing and chipping with the Legion's Ladies Auxiliary

Well Comrades, the month of February has gone by and what a month, snow, cold, cold, brrrr! Not too far to go now for summer, something we didn't get last year, let's hope it found its way and comes back.

We had a fish & chips night February 20 and everyone had a good time. The meal was delicious. I'd like to take this opportunity on behalf of all comrades in thanking all the volunteers who took part in the organizing, cooking and serving. You all did an excellent job. Thanks again for making this a successful night.

Coming up we have a St. Patrick's party on March 20. Corned Beef and Cabbage will be served with entertainment from Kidd & Company. I'm sure it will be a night of fun. The cost will be $20 each. Time 6:30 p.m. Tickets on sale from Ken Walsh, 286-3820, Anne Baker 386-1265 and Frank Codlin 286-3724. Also being sold at the bar. They are limited to 60 people so get your tickets early and let's get out and have a ball.

For Your Service

by Georgina Deeks

Anne McAdam is in Minden Hospital waiting for a bed in Toronto. What would we do without our hospital if they took it away from us? Please fill out the forms you received in the mail and get them in. We just can't afford to lose our hospital where they take such good care of us.

It's just too far to Lindsay and Peterborough in an emergency. Many lives have been saved here. This is where we need it!

Good luck Anne, hope they have a bed for you soon. In the meantime, we know you are being well looked after.

Nominations and elections are creeping up on us for your new executive. Keep an eye on the paper for dates and get out and use your vote. Remember, this is your legion.

See you at the General Meeting March 3, until then, bundle up and keep warm.

Living apart from spouse can affect your income supplements

If you are receiving Old Age Security and you and your spouse are living apart voluntarily (separated for at least 6 months), you may be considered as a single person for Guaranteed Income Supplement purposes. It is possible that you could be entitled to an increase in the GIC you are now receiving.

If you and your spouse are living apart involuntarily, (i.e. one is confined to a hospital or nursing home) you can be considered as a single person if it is to your financial advantage to do so.

Further information and assistance is available by contacting your nearest Information Centre.

Future of salmon industry questioned

At the end of January, the standing parliamentary committee on forestry and fisheries met for three days in Vancouver to hear submissions on the future of B.C.'s salmon fishery. Coming so soon after the spectacular collapse of the northern cod fishery on the East Coast, the B.C. meetings were highly charged.

The controversy has been heating up since the Supreme Court of Canada ruled that after conservation of salmon is assured, aboriginal people have the first right to take fish for their needs.

In response to that ruling, federal fisheries officers worked out agreements allowing certain bands to sell part of their quota, something that had always been illegal. Even though only four percent of the total salmon catch is allotted to native people, commercial and sports fishers warn that this will increase and threaten the salmon resource.

Rancor boiled over when large numbers of salmon entering the Fraser River "vanished" last year. Although an investigation by UBC professor, Peter Pearce, failed to pinpoint the cause of the fish disappearance, many blamed overfishing and poaching by native people.

The B.C. Fisheries Survival Coalition was quickly formed to oppose the commercial sales of aboriginal quotas.

There are two important issues involved in the dispute. The first is the matter of justice. Aboriginal people once harvested 100 percent of all of the resources along the West Coast.

Salmon was a central part of their diet, culture and trade yet the newcomers simply took over and muscled the indigenous people out of the way. Recognition by the courts that people of the First Nations have unabrogated rights to salmon marks an important recognition of an egregious history that must be redressed.

Commercial fishers argue their own "rights" based on 20 or 30 years or one or two generations of fishing,

Reflections

by David Suzuki

but native people used salmon for thousands of years.

The second issue is central to the global environmental crisis, our delusion that we can exploit the planet's resources as we wish because we can sustain the yield. Water, soil, forests and fish have nourished and supported countless generations of human and non-human beings.

Immigrants since Columbus have extracted seemingly unending resources without much thought about limits. But the impact of expanding human numbers and machine power demands that we examine our assumptions about resource management.

Implicit in all of the bickering, is the notion that populations of wild animals and plants can be manipulated and controlled with proper science, technology and bureaucracy.

All over the planet, forest companies, agribusiness, the chemical industry and fisheries assure us that resources can be "managed responsibly". It is a tragic and foolhardy deceit.

We cannot manage resources such as fish, forests, water or soil because our knowledge base is so small. Of the estimated 30 million species on the planet, a mere 1.4 million have been catalogued.

That simply means a dead specimen has been named, not that we know anything about its basic biology like life cycle, food, habitat, reproduction or interaction with other species. In the oceans that cover 70 percent of the planet, our ignorance is vast.

Our illusion of management is made worse because we try to force wild species to respond to bureaucratic priorities. Salmon commissions debate about the "take" allotted foreign fleets in international waters.

Once in Canadian waters, salmon fall under the federal Ministries of Oceans and Fisheries (commercial fishery) and Indian and Northern Affairs (native food fishery) and the provincial department of tourism (sports fishery). But salmon are also impacted by many factors in their habitat administered by different departments.

Pollution from oil spills and mine tailings (Energy, Mines and Resources), siltation of spawning beds from clear-cut logging (Forestry), city growth (Urban Affairs), toxic industrial wastes (Industry) and farm run-off (Agriculture). Wild salmon can not be managed when perceived in such a fragmented way. Next week, a possible alternative.

David Suzuki is a writer, TV and radio host and a world-renowned geneticist who is also a leading spokesman on social and environmental issues.

County of Haliburton Community Futures Committee

How should we develop the future economy of the County of Haliburton?
What's important for future economic development in the County of Haliburton?

The County of Haliburton Community Futures Committee (CFC) is a community economic development programme which involves residents and organizations in working together to create and maintain local jobs through local economic development. The Community Futures Committee (made up of County residents working in partnership with other County residents and organizations) works with local communities to determine local economic development opportunities. Based on a County economic plan, CFC communities can access a number of programmes to support local economic development in the County (business loans, small business/entrepreneurship/self-employment, infrastructure programmes, training, others).

A recent meeting held at Bonnie View Inn involved more than 60 County residents in presentations on the local economy, and in working sessions to determine priorities for local economic development in the County of Haliburton in the next 3 to 5 years. Participants at that session made the following suggestions for local economic development in the County:

- balance development and environment, encourage development which is unique/fits for Haliburton County.
- create and maintain local jobs, develop stable year-round employment.
- plans must build to sustained local economic development and must balance local development and residents' desires.
- we need to diversify the local economy (small business enterprise, tourism development, low impact/high technology industries, programmes which support seniors/retirement, others).
- develop partnerships for local economic development.
- build on strengths in tourism - promote more effectively.
- develop natural resources to value-add in Haliburton County.
- develop what we have - don't rely on grants/Government "handouts".
- build on opportunities with the College, develop cultural and recreation amenities/attractions.
- attract/create opportunities for new money and investment.

WE NEED YOUR IDEAS AND SUGGESTIONS ABOUT FUTURE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT IN THE COUNTY OF HALIBURTON.

Two community planning sessions are planned for:

Tuesday March 9, 1993
7:00 to 9:00 p.m.
MINDEN Arena

Wednesday March 17, 1993
7:00 to 9:00 p.m.
MONMOUTH Council Chambers
Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre,
Wilberforce

For more information or to register for one of the sessions, please contact:
Mark Stagg, Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce 286-1760.
Any one wishing to make a submission can notify the committee at the above telephone number.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

The Minden and District Horticultural Society will hold their next meeting Tuesday, March 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Agnes Jamieson Gallery. Clara Warren will be speaking and answering queries on starting seeds and plants ready for spring planting. Verne Graham will speak on pruning shrubs and bushes etc. They will also watch slides of some lovely gardens in Minden. Everyone is welcome.

Club 35 euchre winners for February 22 included, for most lone hands, Merv Bunker, Helen Lee and Bill Kleinschmidt were high lady and man and Pearl Kernohan took the 50-50. Others included Betty Matthews, Verna Sawyer and Ken Wallace. Special prize went to Helen Windsor. Please note the next Wheels to Meals dinner at Club 35 will be held March 2 at 12 noon.

The "His and Her" 5-Pin bowling tournament was held at Carnarvon Lanes on Sunday February 21 with 36 bowlers participating. Bill Matthews and Myrna McCarthy were first with +220, second Art Parker and Betty Matthews with +98. The high single flat was taken by Gord Darby with +267. The "Mr and Mrs" tournament will take place at the same location on March 14.

Bradley, Maggie and Donna Robinson from Toronto spent last weekend with Bradley's mother, Florence Robinson in Minden.

Allan Rice is the proud owner of a stud colt whose name is Alruth Heaton, named for grandson Heaton Wells.

There was an excellent turnout for Helen Johnson's demonstration of painting on sweatshirts at Minden Legion for the Senior Group last Tuesday. There will be a further session on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 with assistant Cheryl.

On the sick list this week, Shirley Vank, Mary Guillemin, Edna McElwain, Norma Hamilton, Alex Kernohan, Helen Johnson, Gladys Silver, Alice Morrison, Ruby Schell, Cleve Stamp, Helen Stott, Helen Lee and Marg Annis. May you all be better soon.

Stanhope Senior Social Club held another great luncheon and bingo with 40 people attending recently. The next luncheon for this group is March 8 at 12 noon, with speaker, Gordon Monk. They have shuffleboard upstairs and bridge games downstairs every Tuesday at 1 o'clock and bid euchre games Wednesday nights at 7 p.m. Line dancing is on Thursdays at 9:30 a.m. and everyone is welcome to join in the fun at Stanhope Firehall.

We note the book exchange took place at the library - lots of good books for your reading pleasure.

Eleanor Young returned home after enjoying a two week holiday in Florida with Mrs Stuckless.

Georgina and Harold Parkes visited in Peterborough last weekend to celebrate their granddaughter Samantha's 5th birthday. All the family arrived despite the storm to wish Samantha a happy birthday.

There was a great pancake breakfast at Minden United Church recently with all proceeds going to the Sunday School and St. Paul's A.C.A. had their annual successful supper on February 23.

Shirley Horsley and Mary Cox spent last weekend in Bancroft with the Basil Cox family and took in Bancroft's skating carnival.

February 23, Stanhope bridge game winners were Helen Rice, Dave Willis and Myrna McCarthy.

David Hicks has been away and had a good rest in the Dominican Republic.

Minden Legion Seniors group pot luck supper was a huge success despite the weather and a new board of directors was appointed. Ruth Rice, president; Georgina Parkes, secretary and Mary Wilson, treasurer.

While craft work was going on at the legion downstairs, 6 handed euchre games were going on and the winners were Horry Baker, Jack Chilton and Ann Baker.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late George Simmons Sr., and Whitney Carr whose funerals were held last week.

Euchre winners at Gelert Centre on Tuesday February 23 were, for most lone hands, Reta Crofts, Irene Minaker, Annie Achrader, Dorothy McElwain and Chris Hill. The games each week begin at 8 p.m. and the next gathering is March 9.

Weekly games will be held at Minden Legion by the Ladies' Auxiliary such as euchre, cribbage, darts and perhaps pool. They will begin at 7 p.m. with everyone welcome. There will be a craft meeting at Stanhope Firehall on Tuesday, March 2 at 7 p.m. The Minden Agricultural Society meeting will be held Tuesday, March 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Kinsmen trailer at the fairgrounds. There is to be a pot luck luncheon at St. Paul's on Monday, March 1 at 12 noon with euchre games to follow.

Wishing upon a star. Wishing you were here. Mature gentleman, late 30s, 5'11", 230 lbs, on a disability pension, living with one parent. Smoker, light drinker, interested in finding a girlfriend. The young woman I'm hoping to find should be 31 or older. Well-groomed, a sharp dresser, average to attractive looks, feels comfortable in jeans or lace, well educated, down to earth, emotionally stable, a love for animals, kind, loving, understanding, hardworking, honest, open-minded and a sense of humour is a must. Smoker, social or light drinker O.K. Your interests should include Rock & Roll, Classical and Jazz, the outdoors, cards, art and flower shows, snowmobiling, gardening, cooking, good conversation with family and friends and home life. I'm drug/disease free. No game players. Send letter, photo and please include phone number to: Box A, c/o The Times, Minden. KOM 2K0 3A

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of WALTER J. HARRISON, February 26, 1978.
Praise Our Lord Walter dear,
You are receiving your wish
You always wished to me on earth
God bless you, I still love you
I recall you saying "That's a mighty nice song Simone"
Your favourite one, "Mona Lisa".
Mine also is following yours,
"All I have to do is Dream"
Thanks to God and Jesus.
Beloved wife, Simone Harrison.
